Political contributions are not deductible for any purpose under the Internal Revenue Code. Contributions by individuals, associations, PACs, unions, partnerships and LLCs are limited to $4,637 for the Primary election. Partnership contributions over $2,500 must be apportioned by each partner's partnership interest. Contributions from LLCs and corporations are limited to $5,000 in total aggregate giving to all New York States candidates per year. Contributions to a judicial candidate totaling $2,500 by an individual or attorney, or $3,500 by a group of attorneys and their client(s) may require reassignment of cases involving those individuals by the Clerk of the Court from being heard by that judicial candidate. See Rule 151 of the Rules of the New York Chief Administrator for further guidance. State Law requires that contributions be made in the contributor's own name and be made from the contributor's own funds. Responding to this invitation with a contribution constitutes the contributor's affirmation that the contribution is made from the contributor's personal funds without reimbursement in any manner and is not intended to be a loan. You must be at least 18 years of age and a US Citizen or Legal Resident to contribute.
